Sharing Our Success!

What is your educational background?

For the longest time math has been a huge struggle. I could not pass a test and I hardly ever got above a C- in a math class. Other classes, though, came easily to me. I think the reason math was such a hard class for me is because I couldn't care less about it. It did not interest me, and no teacher ever gave me a reason to show interest. High school all together was a roller coaster. Sometimes it gets a little rough, but in the end I enjoyed the ride.

What are your goals for college and the future?

My number one goal was to get accepted into Fort Lewis College. It was a great day when I learned that I was accepted, and I have already declared my major in Criminal Justice. I hope to start a career in Criminal Justice as a police officer or highway patrol officer.

Describe your experience with SAT Prep at Brown Learning Center.

Taking the SAT prep class was very helpful. It was great that Connie Brown was so patient, and she really took the time to sit with me and go through every problem. She made sure that I really truly understood the problem, rather than checking if the answer was correct and moving on.

What was your reaction to your new SAT scores?

I was very excited to find that my scores did greatly improve.

Division II college athletes have to score a minimum of 820 combined on the Reading and Math sections.

Comments for Connie Brown: Thank you so very much for all the extra time and work you put into helping me. I know I was a tough student, but you did not quit and neither did I and you helped me succeed and got me on track to achieving my dreams.

How have your improved SAT scores enabled you to reach your goals?

If I didn't bring my scores up then I would not be able to attend my dream college, nor would I be able to attend a 4 year school at all. My SAT scores, without a doubt, helped me reach my goals.
